

TARAVAL

2018 Brick Kiln Paso Robles Red Wine

Terroir and Vintage

Known for its complex and full-bodied wines, the Paso Robles AVA, situated in the north of California's San Luis Obispo County, is rapidly developing a reputation as a world-class winegrowing region, producing a wide range of varietals ripened to perfection thanks to its warm Mediterranean climate and long growing season, tempered by the cooling influence of the nearby Pacific Ocean. Its diverse terrain allows for layered, expressive wines with vibrant, rich fruit flavors and impressive structure.

Tasting Notes

Deep red in color, with lifted aromas of black cherry, violet and toffee, this is a full-bodied red with well-integrated, nutty tannins complementing flavors of boysenberry, caramel and subtle black pepper, which lead to a captivating long finish of plum, smoked meats and cola.

Ready to drink but worthy of aging, we recommend pairing this compelling wine with grilled beef steak, mushroom risotto or a traditional full Sunday roast.
